LAWSON GARDENS

IRIS - DAYLILIES

1953

MRS. L. B. LAWSON
Waterman Canyon
Route 1, Box 76
San Bernardino, California

Greetings for 1953 . . .

We take great pleasure in presenting this list for your approval. We have purchased the iris stock of the late Mrs. Lena Lothrop and her many friends will be happy to see her iris listed. We wish to thank you for the orders sent last year, and hope to make many more new friends and customers this season.

Sincerely,

MRS. FRANCES J. LAWSON

Introductions for 1953 . . .

THE LAUGHING CAVALIER) LONG SHADOWS)
SWAGGER)	LENA LOTHROP
THE PIRATE)

Families are fun. From the garden of the well known hybridizer who developed ESQUIRE (1945) and BEN BOLT (1949), we proudly introduce this year four new variants on the same theme.

To the smooth self-assurance of ESQUIRE and the regal bearing of BEN BOLT are now joined the sedate dignity of LONG SHADOWS, the gaiety of THE LAUGHING CAVALIER in two heart-warming shades of rich blue, the well-tailored, well-groomed SWAGGER, and the earthy impudence of THE PIRATE.

Plant this quartet of magnetic iris personalities in your garden for an exciting conversation piece, at a special price for the four of $35.00 net. If your garden does not yet have ESQUIRE and BEN BOLT, the senior members of this lively family, all six for $40.00 net.

CITRINE (4-B-48) 40" Early White-Eckels

A smokey chartreuse veined in a darker tone, with even deeper green in styles and crest, lavender lips and slim yellow beard. Of particular interest to onco fans and hybridizers. About half onco Net $15.00

COMPETITOR 36" Midseason Lothrop

A well branched yellow plicata. The markings are brown and it is not cream but a rich yellow. Increases rapidly. $10.00

DAMASCUS BLADE (1-D-48-5) 38" Very late White-Eckels

A really different blend. Huge, showy flowers in steel gray, with overtones of mauve-pink and brown. This magnificent one-fourth onco is hardy even in New England, and sets seed. $12.50

SANDYSON (Warbler X King Karl X?) 19" White, Alice

Delightful and dainty table iris. White to cream ground, lavender-sanded plicata. Grand for cutting or the small garden. The foliage is small and the whole plant is in good proportion. $3.00
